It's either a unabomber inspired attack or something done by whoever did that sunburst hack. The US claims Russia did it but those niggers don't know. It took them 9 months to figure out they were compromised and I'm supposed to believe they know who did it. Yeah right. This was very critical infrastructure in plain sight. An actual happening, not trying to be rude but these qtard conspiracies are derailing the thread hard.

I'm dismissing anything election related. This would be like the fourth happening. Sidney Powell's cunt ass been claiming she has proof right in her cooter. They're just larping for money I figure. I doubt it's at all related. If any of that shit was real, it'd be out by now, or we'd see hints in government something is coming.

Anyone can call in and report that. Gives a reason for the police to "discover" the RV and for no real reason call in the bomb squad and start evacuating before actually knowing it's a bomb and before hearing the warning message get played. Then, the laughing mayor is not worried about this unusual incident nor that any other incidents might occur next.

Yeah that's what really stumps me about this. I've seen people speculate that this was just to test the strength of America's telecommunication systems to prep for a larger attack, but I'm not so sure about that. I think before we can start speculating in that direction we need to know if there was a dude in the van when it blew up or not. If they were just testing the waters then they certainly wouldn't kill themselves for it.

Whether actual or over a loudspeaker isn't confirmed. Police actually took like 30 mins I believe to respond. Six officers I believe were on scene when the audio switched to a recording indicating it was a bomb. Early news reports actually played this off like it was a keen cop who spotted the vbied without mentioning the whole the RV itself broadcasting it was a fucking bomb.

My big question is why the fuck is ALL of our 911 traffic on one system? Why was there no redundancy?

Very strange, if it was truly a situation of the goods guys intercepting the bad guy bomber, neutralising him, and then having to do a controlled detonation due to the bomb being what it was, this makes some sense. But they would have to have KNOWN that this place was going to be bombed, and had with them audio equipment/loud speakers and this warning message, pre prepared. It's all very strange. If this really was a case of white hats intercepting the bad guy, then they did an exceptional job, that was extremely professional work

Apologies anon, but you're digging your own rabbit hole.

The NFPA diamond is not meant to specify which chemical is present, but the hazards that the chems expose emergency workers to.

The blue 3 indicates health hazard level 3, can cause serious or permanent injury.
The red 4 indicates that the chemical will burn or vaporize at room temperature.
The yellow 1 indicates that the chemical/s present is normally stable.

The W with a line through it means don't put fucking water on this shit. For a more detailed analysis read the NFPA Codes related to signage. As I understand it there should be a more detailed sign present in the area but it may be inside the designated fire fighter control room. Often along with prints for the building, but perhaps not in this case.

Likely, the shots were to lure the law and the 2and to kill them. Often a bomb is set to get to the police/feds.

Eric Rudolph did. He targeted federally protected stuff (gay bar, abortion clinic, Olympics) so the investigators harmed in the 2and bombing would be feds.

The IRA would send warnings before bombing bars, etc - hoping to get British soldiers, but not civilians.

The timing and warning indicate civilians weren't the target. Interesting it was a women's voice as the warning.

There us a LOT of evidence & the case should be cracked by now. Don't let this get memory holed.

18. Emotionalize, Antagonize, and Goad Opponents. If you can't do anything else, chide and taunt your opponents and draw them into emotional responses which will tend to make them look foolish and overly motivated, and generally render their material somewhat less coherent. Not only will you avoid discussing the issues in the first instance, but even if their emotional response addresses the issue, you can further avoid the issues by then focusing on how 'sensitive they are to criticism.'

6. Hit and Run. In any public forum, make a brief attack of your opponent or the opponent position and then scamper off before an answer can be fielded, or simply ignore any answer. This works extremely well in Internet and letters-to-the-editor environments where a steady stream of new identities can be called upon without having to explain criticism, reasoning -- simply make an accusation or other attack, never discussing issues, and never answering any subsequent response, for that would dignify the opponent's viewpoint.

10. Associate opponent charges with old news. A derivative of the straw man -- usually, in any large-scale matter of high visibility, someone will make charges early on which can be or were already easily dealt with - a kind of investment for the future should the matter not be so easily contained.) Where it can be foreseen, have your own side raise a straw man issue and have it dealt with early on as part of the initial contingency plans. Subsequent charges, regardless of validity or new ground uncovered, can usually then be associated with the original charge and dismissed as simply being a rehash without need to address current issues -- so much the better where the opponent is or was involved with the original source.

Yes. FirstNet is a thing and it's dumber than fuck. Basically, in-lieu of having dedicated communications infrastructure allocated to public safety agencies, the new push is to migrate away from radio comms to piggybacking over the cell networks. Yes, the infrastructure is distributed, yes, the coverage is better; however, you've now entered into reliance on the cell network's backbone. APXNext from Motorola plays into this.
Tldr, public safety is migrating away from traditional comms infrastructure to reliance on VOiP. It's really fucking dumb. As well, the comms aren't managed locally with dedicated on-site personnel and are supported/run through the carrier/provider and/or Motorola.

>what is the Gospel of Jesus Christ?
This is a basic preaching of the Gospel for your convenience. To start off, Jesus Christ came in the flesh.
>1 John 4:2 "Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:"
Coming as the last Adam(1 Corinthians 15:45-47; Romans 5:12-15)
Giving redemption through his blood(Ephesians 1:7)
>Hebrews 10:7-10 "Then said I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God.
>Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;
>Then said he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.
>By the which will we are sanctified through the offering of the body of Jesus Christ once for all."
As was prophesied by Isaiah of the Messiah that was to be rejected of his own people(Isaiah 53:3-5)
And in Psalms
>Psalm 22:16 "For dogs have compassed me: the assembly of the wicked have inclosed me: they pierced my hands and my feet."
So, Jesus Christ of Nazareth did fulfill scripture and did die and rose again. So that we can be saved through his blood by being baptized for the remission of sins through his name.
>Acts 2:38 "Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost."
>John 3:5 "Jesus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God."

>Saved, according to the Bible

Telco anon here. I work in this group but not at this paticular Central Office. Yes this site has Firstnet but Firstnet and other Network Cloud equipment are SDN and would autobackup no problem.

The issue is that this CO is on the main ring or what we call thr POI (Point of Intersect) which is the old long distance network we fibered over with Cisco CRX routers.

Knocking this office offline absolutely fucks our internal comms and all core backbone services and given the extend of damages this will take weeks to fix. This is why Chattanooga and other areas are affected.

There are other COs on the POI like mine that are way softer targets and have more equipment in it.

None of us know why this site was targeted but its a real mess.

Someone posted that for Miami market and Texax wolf lodge, there are large datacenters 5-10 minutes away from locations. IIRC in Miami that datacenter also related to Solarwind\Dominion. But datacenters are everywhere nowadays, could be nothing. Those could be foiled attempts at what happened at Nashville idk. Certainly more to look out for. NSA buildings (basically public knowledge by now) could be targeted next.

It's the most logical conclusion based on what is known.

It does not fit any typical terrorist MO. Someone with inside knowledge had to know the LEO infrastructure associated with that building and the fact that the NSA is said to have offices there. Also a warning to give people ample time to evacuate shows that the point wasn't to cause as much casualties but to disrupt some government asset. Clearly it's too sophisticated with too much inside knowledge to be a lone nut or camel jocky.

This. They are still doing this, too. Be sure to look for any mentions or descriptions of the audio in the news. Then it might be worth reading. The fucking audio is the biggest clue to the motive, means, and politics/intelligence of the bomber outside the RV photo itself and the alleged target.

No clues as to how/when he left the scene. Or if any cameras captured his getaway. Really gay if he was inside the RV when it blew, and seems too weak to sacrifice for. And almost too well planned for a lone wolf.

Looks to be memory holed. Another goddamn Stephen Paddock mystery. Unless he/they strike again.
